PETERSBURG, VA., July 22, 1890. Political matters are discussed but little as yet in the Fourth congressional district. No steps have been taken by either of the parties towards calling conventions for the parties towards calling conventions for the nomination of candidates, and this duty will probably be deferred until as late a date as possible to secure a thorough candidate as possible to secure a thorough candidate as possible to secure a thorough candidate as possible to secure a thorough candidates. possible to secure a thorough canrass of the district. The Republicans will open the ball at Dinwiddie Courthouse on open the ball at Dinwiddie Courthouse on August court-day, when, as announced by hand-bills over the name of Mr. Duane, the county chairman, General Stith Bolling, of this city, and other speakers will address the citizens. It seems to be generally understood that Langston will again be a candidate this fall, and on the same old platform of the race issue.

INTENSIFIED OFFOSITION. It seems also to be as generally understood that he will have to meet the same opposition within the ranks of the Republican party, more intensified among the whites and strengthened by alleged desertion of people of his own race. And it seems to be generally anticipated also,
though everything looks so quiet just now, that is the quiet before the storm, and that the old Fourth district will witness a campaign this fall in which there will be no child's play, but which will result in signal success for the Democratic candidate.

GAINES'S PARTY.

GAINES'S PARTY. Mr. William E. Gaines, who some time ago announced himself a candidate for Congress as a Republican, has not opened his canvass yet. It does not look as though either faction of the party down this way is at all enthusiastic in his favor.

The alliance, embracing as it does so large a portion of the white voters in its membership, will probably not take any part as an organization in politics this fall.

Supervisor Young is as yet unable to furnish the exact returns of the population of his district. Out of the papers of the two hundred and seven enumerators those of one hundred and sixty-eight have been sent to Washington. The papers of fifteen are still out, being among those which were sent back to the gruperators for correction. back to the enumerators for correction. These officers have been communicated with and notified to send their corrected papers in at once. Supervisor Young thinks the census in his district has been taken as closely and as faithfully as it was ever done before.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL. In the Mayor's Court this morning the case of Edward Rand, a painter of this city, charged with the larceny of $55 in money from the person of Mr. W. D. Godfrey, was examined and the accused was committed to jail for trial at the next term of the Hustings Court for felony. Mr. Godfrey is from Norfolk, instead of Richmond, as previously stated. Both parties, according to his statement, had been drinking pretty freely together and had retired to sleep. When Mr. Godfrey awoke Sunday morning his money was gone.

Mr. James Hennessey, who was fined by the Mayor several weeks ago on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday, and who appealed from that decision, has since had two trials of the appeal in the Hustings Court, in both of which the jury disagreed and failed to render a verdict. On the first trial the jury stood eleven for acquittal. Thereupon the City Attorney consented to the dismissal of the case.

A GAMBLING CASE.

The Mayor held a special to the control of the sunday attested by the signature of Governor Pierrepont, then at the head of affairs in the State. It is now proposed to organize a new company and stir up an interest in emigration to South America, and if the force bill passes and subjects the people of the South to the trouble that some anticipate, it may be a good point for our people to consider with a view of emigrating to it.

WHAT A "DISPATCH" AD. DID.

A Mr. Vassar, of Richmond, saw the advertisement in the Dispatch a week or two ago of the storehouse, &c., for rent or lease at Payne's, the first station, and three miles below this place, and he accordingly negotiated for the course.

The Mayor held a special term of his court at noon to-day for the trial of an alleged gambling case. The warrant charged the violation of certain sections of the city ordinance. The witnesses all declined to testify on the ground that by so doing they might criminate themselves. Without any evidence before him the Mayor dismissed the warrant.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

Danville, Va., July 22.—According to the reports sent out from Richmond of the real estate assessment in the various cities of the State, Danville is the wealthiest of all cities in Virginia per capita. She has a population of 12,000 and a real estate assessment of $5,700,228. She has real and personal property valued at about $8,000.000, giving her an average wealth per capita of $750. Her white voters number about 1,400 and the average wealth for each white voter is more than $5,000. - EXCLUSIVE ATTENTION.

The stockholders of the Danville Savings Bank, Loan and improvement Company held a meeting to-day, and among other things directed the board to employ a first-class man to be secretary of the company and to give his entire time to the company's business. The enterprise will be pushed vigorously ahead and is in a fair way to make hig money for the stockholders.

A notice was published in this morning's paper that the water inspector would make his rounds during the day, and the plumbers have had more work than they could do repairing leaks in water-pipes which had hitherto given the owners little or no concern. It is said that one citizen had been keeping a large duck-pond on his premises and supplying it with water from the city reservoir.

Correspondence of the Richmond Dispaich.

Norfolk, July 22, 1890.

Sergeant Vellines, of the police department, this morning found the body of a drowned negro in the dock at Frey Brothers' wood-yard, foot of Faulkiand street. The negro was a lighterman named Joyner, and had rolled overboard from his lighter during the night while asleep. Dr. E. V. Newton, the coroner, held an inquest, and the jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning. Drowning accidents have been unusually numerous here this summer.

The weather here is again decidedly cool and thek clothing is comfortable. These pronounced changes bring in their train coids and coughs and considerable sickness; drive the mosquitoes and flies indoors, and make us question the comfort and benefit of an unseasonable cool spell in mid-summer.

MR. ROYALL'S CONFERENCE.

About an Old Land Grant.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

Scottsville, Va., July 22, 1890.

"Tallwood" is the old homestead of Tucker S. Coles, Esq. who died many years ago. It is situated about eight miles above this place in Albemarle, and is soon to be the scene of a very interesting conference. The place has been rented by Hon. W. L. Royall, counsel of the British bondholders, who now occupies it with his family. The premises are being put in handsome trim by Mr. Royall for the purpose of entertaining there in September the representatives of the British bondholders and the State's representatives, one of whom is our distinguished friend, Grover Cleveland, Esq., who was recently selected and consented to serve on a committee in conference with the British representatives. Mr. Royall's wagons were hauling furniture and stores from the Scottsville depot last week with which to supply his house and larder. A VENEZUELAN GRANT.

A VENEZUELAN GRANT.

In the year 1856 Dr. Henry M. Price, of Fluvanna county, succeeded in procuring from the Venezuelan Government a grant of 240,000 square miles of territory, to be known as "the Price Grant." Considerable interest was taken in the scheme of colonizing the land, which was reported rich in gold and other mineral deposits, fertile in prolific soil, healthy in climate, while the forests were of great value in mahogany and other valuable woods. Upwards of 600 enigrants went out at different times during 1866-767, and then the interest seemed to wane until during the past few months, when Colonel R. H. Musser, a prominent lawyer of Brunswick, Mo., and who is vice-president, has revived a correspondence with Dr. Price, and during the past few days a power of attorney has been sent by Dr. Price to Colonel Musser authorizing him to dispose of the rights and privileges of running railroads and canals through the Price grant, and tor which Colonel Musser writes Dr. Price (as the latter informs your correspondent) he is offered the sum of $500,000.

burg and Durham railroad was built and it is now seven miles from the nearest point on that line. Your correspondent has just been given the particulars of a shocking affair which occurred at the store of a Mr. Lawson, at Hat Creek, Saturday the 12th instant, and which was witnessed by a Richmond gentleman, who gives the fol-lowing particulars:

RIVALS MEET.

There were three brothers at the store mentioned by the name of Hamlett. After them came two men named Nach and Joy respectively. A trivial circumstance had occurred between one of the Hamletts and Joy, who were rivals for the affections of a young lady in the neighborhood, and this caused Joy, who was somewhat intoxicated, to seek a difficulty with Hamlett. A TERRIBLE COMBAT.

He began his attack by a tirade of abuse, which caused one of the Hamletts to strike him with his fist. The combat soon embraced the five persons mentioned, and stones, sticks, and other missiles were used, and finally one of the Hamletts drew his pocket-knife and literally disembowelled Joy, slashing his protruded entrails and otherwise cutting him about the body.

OTHER INJURIES. Nash was also cut in several places and each of the Hamletts had bruised heads and limbs. Joy sunk bleeding and speechless upon the steps and a messenger was dispatched for a physician. My informant (perfectly reliable), hoping to avoid the inconvenience of attending any trial as a witness, secured his horse and closing up his business with the merchant hastily left the premises. The neighborhood being very isolated, as above described, has doubtless prevented any newspaper account of the affair reaching the public.

dier Just Deceased. [New York correspondence Baltimore Sun.]

New York correspondence Baitimore Sun.]

There was buried at Green wood to-day a man with a curious history. He had been a Confederate soldier, as brave as any of his comrades, but he deserted his army during the war, and was tried by court-martial for doing so. Edward Cooper was his name. For the past year he had been living at No. 355 Fourth avenue.

One bleak December morning in 1863 he was before a court-martial of the Army of Northern Virginia. The prisoner was told to introduce his witnesses. He replied, "I have no witnesses." Astonished at the calimness with which he seemed to be submitting to his inevitable fate, General Battle said to him; "Have you no defence? Is it possible that you abandoned your comrades and deserted your colors in the presence of the enemy without reason?" "There was a reason," replied Cooper, "but it will not avail me before a military tribunal."

"Perhaps you are mistaken," said the General; "you are charged with the highest crime known to military law and it is your duty to make known the cause that influenced your actions,"

Approaching the president of the court Cooper presented a letter, saying as he did so: "There, General, is what did it!"

The letter was offered as the prisoner's defence, It was in these words:

"Dear Edward,—Since your connection with the Confederate army I have been prouder of you than ever before. I would not have you do anything wrong for the world, but before God, Edward, unless you come home we must die! Last night I was Hood's Sarsaparilla Is a peculiar medicine. It is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, from Sarsaparina, harman properties, and other well-hrown and valuable vegetable remedies, by a peculiar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla-curative power not possessed by other medicines. It effects remark-able cures where other preparations fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the best blood purifier before the public. It eradicates every impurity, and cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Bolls, Pimples, all Humors, Dyspepsis, Billousness, Sick Headache, Indigestion, General Debility, Catarrh, kheumatism, Kidney and Liver Complaints, overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, and builds up the system.
